ATOMIC TIME MANAGER 400!

THE ONLY PRODUCT THAT SYNCS YOUR HARDWARE AND SOFTWARE CLOCKS!

ATM-400 is the one product that can synchronize your iSeries to any NTP time server on the web. It also can automatically adjust your clocks for daylight savings time!

Never worry about time again, let our product ensure that your AS/400 clocks are synchronized with your other servers, locations and the atomic clocks around the world.

It's so easy to use; you install the product from a save file, fill in information about your location and input the internet address of the time server you wish to synchronize with. That it! You never worry about time again as our product synchronizes your clocks every hour with the time server. It's that simple!

Why do you need ATM-400? Well, if you are doing any distributed transactions it is extremely important that your iSeries clocks be synchronized with the other systems you are coordinating with, otherwise tracing transactions by timestamps becomes a problem. In addition, some transactions require responses within a certain window of time. If your clock is five minutes fast, you have just lost five minutes of your response window on an incoming transaction. Now that your systems are connected, time management is more important than ever. Let ATM-400 manage your time!
